

January Competition Winners

Among winners in the Flatirons Photo Club's January competition were, clockwise from top, Bruce Henderson, for "Rodeo Queens"; Cary Wolfson, for "Highland Window Washers; and Ilene Meyers for "Vik Church." John Kiefer was the featured speaker and competition judge.

FLATIRONS PHOTO CLUB

Bob Maynard to talk about his new book

Bob Maynard, an award-winning nature photographer who has chaired the Louisville National Juried Photography Show for a number of years, will talk about his new book, "A Photographer's Guide to Colorado's National Parks and Monuments," at the Flatirons Photo Club monthly meeting and competition on Feb. 11.

Maynard offers photo tours, photography workshops and corporate wall art services in Colorado, the Everglades and Utah.

His book offers help to photographers who want to do their own exploring of scenic Colorado locations without the help of a tour guide. It provides all the information photographers need to be in the right place, at the right time, with the right lens.

Photo © Jerry Olson

GOT HIS GOATS: Bob Maynard caught some friendly mountain goats while photographing at 13,000 feet on Mt. Evans.

Each chapter introduces the special features unique to each location, providing in-depth and reader-friendly details on geology, history and more.

Maynard and naturalist Cindy Maynard share their extensive personal experience, entertaining anecdotes, and a selection of Bob's photographs.

Maynard's work is carried by several galleries throughout Colorado. Having accumulated over 1,400 photo credits, his images have appeared in Audubon, Rocky Mountain Raptor Center publications and in several corporate offices. His website is called Colorado Plateau Photo Tours and it is located at <http://www.coloradoplatauphototours.com/pages/bob-maynard-photography.php>.

Maureen Ruddy Burkhart to teach iPhone workshop

Maureen Ruddy Burkhart, an internationally acclaimed documentary photographer who has been guest speaker and judge for the Flatirons Photo Club, will teach a beginning-level iPhone course from 6-9 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 22 at Boulder Digital Arts.

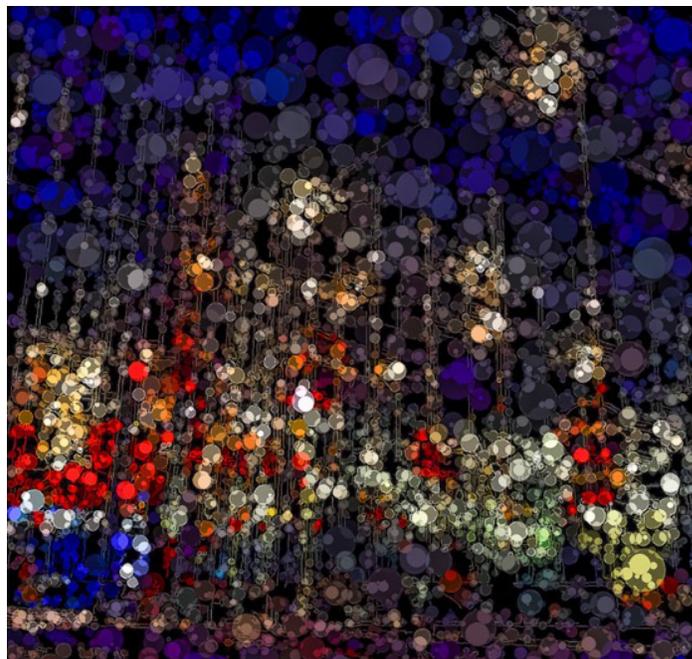

She is a graduate of the San Francisco Art Institute and has had a career as a writer, director, cinematographer, documentary photographer and editor for Technicolor, including stints on naval subs to director of academic media at the U.S. Naval Academy.

Burkhart has won numerous fine art awards for her ongoing documentary work in the Kibera slum of Kenya, whose images have appeared in Slate and The Daily Mail. Her work is in collections at Hamburg Kennedy and the Asia Society Museum in New York, the MIT Library's Collection on Islamic Art, Beijing, and is featured in LensCulture and Art Photo Index.

Flatirons Photo Club members can get a discount on BDA workshops. Contact Bruce Henderson.

WESTWORD WRITES ABOUT CARY WOLFSON; EXHIBIT OPENS AT KGNU: Flatirons Photo Club Treasurer Cary Wolfson, who is the host of KBCO radio's Blues from the Red Rooster Lounge, was recently featured in Westword Magazine for his work as a photographer. See <http://bit.ly/1Rjz0Bq>. His latest photo exhibit, including Red Egg Galaxy above, runs from Jan. 22 through the end of February at KGNU studios in Boulder. He also has a new online photo site at <https://www.facebook.com/CWPhotoGraphicArts/>.

FLATIRONS PHOTO CLUB

NEWS AND NOTES

CRANE FEST CLUB

TRIP: Mia Mestdagh, who is the projectionist for the Flatirons Photo Club and organizes the monthly club competitions, is again planning a club outing to the annual Crane Festival, which features thousands of migrating cranes, from March 11-13 in Monte Vista.

An organizational meeting about the trip will be held following the club's regular meeting on Feb. 11. More information about the festival is at <http://mv-cranefest.org>.

DARKROOM SEEKING PHOTOGRAPHERS:

Julie Cardinal, the owner of The Darkroom Photo Gallery in Longmont, is looking for exhibitors during the March/April time frame. Email her at info@thedarkroomlongmont.com and include a link to your photo website.

She also is planning a new photo contest around the theme of natural and man-made architecture.

CLUB DISCOUNTS:

Eight Days a Week, an imaging and copy center that offers printing, mounting and graphic design services located at 840 Pearl St. in Boulder, is offering Flatirons Photo Club members a 15% discount on services. Members must contact Judith Carmichael directly to receive the discount.

Mike's Camera, located at 2500 Pearl St. in Boulder, also is offering member discounts. Members must contact Brian Rabin in industrial sales to receive a discount on services.

Boulder Digital Arts, which offers a variety of classes related to digital design, is offering Flatirons Photo Club members 10% off any BDA lecture-style workshop and hands-on class through Oct. 21, 2016. Contact Bruce Henderson at bruce.henderson@colorado.edu to obtain the discount code for registering for classes.
